The arrests climaxed nearly two weeks of intensive investigation by nearly all members of the police department.

Brian J. Stevenson, 18, was arrested late Tuesday and charged with breaking and entering and

Mayor George Returns In Time to Cast Ballot

The forgotten man in the heat of mayoralty electioneering, Mayor Percy George arrived back in town yesterday to cast his ballot today for his successor.

President of the Canadian Federation of Mayors, Mayor George has been attending a conference of the federation executive in Ottawa and Montreal.

"The meetings were an outstanding compliment to me and I feel we accomplished a great deal," he said yesterday morning.

After presiding over meetings of the executive and advisory board, Mayor George was given a banquet by Mayor Camillien Houde of Montreal.

PRESENTS BRIEFS

Mayor George presented several briefs before Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent and the cabinet in Ottawa, chiefly on housing, civil defense, inflation and the federal sales tax as applied to municipal purchases.

"Although we got no direct answer," the mayor said, "it was the unanimous feeling of the executive that the Prime Minister and cabinet were very considerate of our views."

The federation, he said, asked the cabinet to give an early reaction to the briefs and the ministers seemed "fully aware and greatly concerned over the matter."

On both housing and civil defense, the federation has asked the federal government for more help and leadership.

Your Ballot Today Will Be One of These

Majority of voters, the property owners, will be given this set of five ballots today. Top one in yellow will be for the reduction of council by-law, the next, in blue, for the one-year council seat, next, in pink, for the mayor, next, in white, for the police commissioner and the last, brown, for five two-year aldermen. Of 19,620 persons on the voters' list, 16,857 are property owners.

Voters Use Multitude Of Ballots

When voters go to the polls today, property owners will be given a set of five separate ballots and householders and licensees a set containing four ballots.

First on the No. 1 set for property owners (shown above) will be a yellow ballot for the reduction of council by-law.

Next will be a blue ballot for the one-year by-election aldermanic seat containing the names of J. Donald Smith and William H. Williams.

Third will be a pink ballot with the names of the four mayoralty candidates. Harry Haigh, C. L. Harrison, Dr. J. D. Hunter and Aubrey Kent.

Fourth will be a white ballot with names of the two police commission candidates, William J. Hamilton and Charles de Lure.

Last will be a brown ballot with the names of 12 candidates contesting the five regular two-year council seats, Mrs. May Campbell, Ald. Mrs. Margaret Christie, P. B. Freedman, Percy Humber, Harold E. Ker, Mrs. Patricia Luchinsky, John A. McLellan, Ald. Millard Mooney, Brent Murdoch, Ald. William Pinfold, Ald. Percy Scurrah and Ald. Waldo Skilling.

The No. 2 set for householders and licensees (also shown above) will contain the blue, pink, white and brown ballots but not the yellow one for the council reduction by-law.

The ballot system used in Victoria civic elections was designed and copyrighted by city clerk M. F. Hunter in 1929 and has been in use here ever since.

Several other B.C. cities and municipalities have adopted the Hunter ballot.

Open Beer Parlors "Trap"

Indians Demand Equality In Legislation on Drinking

Federal government approval for Indians to drink in beer parlors was called "a trap," "no good" and "a move that will make Indians feel inferior" by chiefs on Vancouver Island and the mainland last night.

Indians will be allowed to drink in beer parlors on Dec. 15, but will not be allowed to buy beer at licensed premises to take out.

Andy Paull of North Vancouver, president of North American Indian Brotherhood, representing Canadian Indians, said, "We have taken one step in moccasins and now will take the next step in white man's shoes. This new ruling is a trap, because the Indian Act still states Indians cannot be drunk on reservations."

"How is the Indian to sober up after drinking on licensed premises which are near the reservation? The fine for being drunk on the reservation is $5 to $25."

"It's been a long fight and one immediate benefit should be that less Indians will be in B.C. jails. Formerly many of them have been jailed just because some policeman smelled liquor on their breath."

"Indians should have all privileges under B.C. liquor laws and, of course, the same penalties as anyone else."

Chief Chuck Therne of Duncan, president of the Cowichan Indians, said, "It's not right to open the breach a little bit. It should be wide open; same privileges as for whites, and same penalties."

Chief Percy Ross, Victoria, said, "What's the use of Indians sitting around beer parlors until they are drunk and then going out and being picked up by police? I was against this new ruling from the start."

Chief Thunderbird, well-known Victoria Indian wrestler, added his voice to the resentment against the ruling. "I've made a study of this problem," he said. "This ruling will start friction right away by making Indians feel inferior to white men. I really don't see how Indians are going to benefit by it."

The weather should be fine for voters today. Forecast for the day is cloudy in the morning, clearing, with sunny patches in the afternoon; winds light. Definitely no rain.

Fine weather could bring out a record number of voters. Highest vote recorded was in 1938 when 63 per cent of those eligible voted.

Five-Year-Old Girl Drowned in Well

DUNCAN, Dec. 12—Doreen Hollings, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Hollings, was drowned today when she fell into a well at her Herd Road home.

The mishap occurred shortly after noon, when the girl and her four-year-old sister, Marlene, were playing in the back yard.

Doreen, according to her sister, removed the cover of the well and fell down it into seven feet of water.

Mrs. Hollings tried to rescue her daughter with a ladder, but failed and called R.C.M.P. and Duncan fire department inhalator crew.

James Morrissey, a neighbor, went into the well and recovered the child's body. The inhalator squad worked on her without success.

Besides Marlene and her parents, she is survived by another sister, Eileen, nine, and a four-month-old brother.

The family moved here about a year ago from Deerholt.

An inquiry will be held into the tragedy.

No Mishaps Reported

Heavy Fog Slows Oak Bay Traffic

Heavy fog crept down in patches throughout the Greater Victoria area last night, but no traffic accidents resulted.

Hardest hit was Oak Bay, where thick patches made driving very difficult, particularly along Cadboro Bay Road. In Saanich, motorists reported dense patches of fog in scattered areas.

Esquimalt and the city escaped with nothing worse than a heavy mist that vanished completely later in the evening. R.C.M.P. officials reported the Island Highway quite clear and safe for driving all evening.

Six People Shaken Up In $1,000 Collision

A head-on collision last night postmaster at Happy Valley, was in collision with a car driven by William A. Snyder of 817 Fort, about half a mile south of the Thetis Lake turnout on the Island Highway at 6:30 p.m.

Department to Check Working Conditions

The federal labor department is checking reports that prevailing wages and other conditions are not being observed on some national defense projects on Vancouver Island.

Labor Minister Milton Gregg has acknowledged a union request for investigation of the matter and has instructed the department's Vancouver office to report. International Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners said yesterday.

These will be called later.

"We can only hope for a miracle today," the Red Cross spokesman said.

Today is the last day of the drive, and the clinic will be open between 1:30 and 4:30 p.m. and 6:30 to 9:30 in the evening.

Senior club members' party has been set for Dec. 19, followed by a flag officers' reception on Boxing Day.

Yuletide festivities of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club will begin with a party for the children of members Saturday between 3 and 5 p.m. at the Cadboro Bay clubhouse.

Senior club members' party has been set for Dec. 19, followed by a flag officers' reception on Boxing Day.

Under law, male attendance on a jury is obligatory, but women can refuse.

They usually do, he said.

No immediate increase in the price of beer is seen by B.C. Liquor Commissioner Col. Donald McGugan.

The B.C. Liquor Control Board must give authorization, after a thorough investigation, for any such increase, he said, and so far, no application for a boost has been made by breweries.

With only 181 donors reporting to Red Cross House yesterday, and the total thus far in the four-day drive a little more than 500 pints, Red Cross officials expressed deep disappointment.

"We've had wonderful publicity in the press; have offered free transportation, and even baby-sitters, to no avail," one spokesman said.

Red Cross House, at 1046 Fort, had expected more than 750 pints of blood from 2,000 noties sent out to previous donors.

They did not expect a great immediate response from the pledges signed at Sunday's Pint Parade show at the Odent Theatre.

These will be called later.

Jaycee Ducks Draw One Squawk

"Have you cleared this with the SPCA?" demanded one male lady of Junior Chamber of Commerce members Jack Ledger and Charles Berry yesterday. She suggested candidates in next

Popular Arion Male Choir Centre Of Enjoyable High School Program

By RAY BAINES

The popular and popular Arion Male Choir, and a bevy of students, sang for an audience at the Victoria High School auditorium, conducted by Peter Copeland, the teacher, and was heard in a large audience in five groups of songs of every type from the stirring "Men of Harrow" to a World War symphony. A talented group of assessors filed out the program. First of these was Mr. S. G. (Tom)

Billy Hastings, who sang "A nest and graceful leap onto the nest," and a solo by a young lady named Vicki, appeared that he had passed a number of arduous and arduous trials in the last few months, the most difficult being the last, "The 12 Days of Christmas."

Miss Loraine Hermon, soloist, possesses a rich natural voice. Her moving "Negro spiritual" "Sometimes I Feel Like a Motherless Child" was sung with warmth and feeling.

Victoria Symphony last night under Dr. George Green, and the second instrumental to a warmth two numbers one being the usually vocal piece, "I Love Life." Dr. Green was accompanied by Mrs. Green.

The program's only male vocal soloist, Joe Almond, was heard next in two hearty songs, "Stop Me at the Mine" and "Come to the Fair."

A very young actress, Miss Marjorie Gilbert, displayed a good deal of ability with several luminous and serious monologues.

In an amusing performance about a mouse, Miss Gilbert not only spoke the part but did

Commons Rejects Move For National Health Plan

OTTAWA, Dec. 12 (CP)—The Commons today rejected a C.C.F. demand for a national health plan that would include free hospital accommodation, medical care and health insurance.

The demand was made in a non-confidence motion sponsored by Joseph Noseworthy (C.C.F., York South) near the end of the debate on the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne. The motion was defeated 189 to 11, with only the C.C.F. voting for it.

George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, said his party has long realized the necessity for a plan of health in Canada. This was his party's stand:

"We stand in favor of a plan which, in cooperation with the provinces, will give the people the maximum of services, and yet, by a plan of freedom, where the doctors will not be civil servants, and which will allow free choice between doctor and patient."

"We have got a full realization of the deficiencies in treatment services in Canada and in our preventive services, and we stand ready to implement a plan to overcome these deficiencies, and which will raise health standards in Canada to the equal of that in any other country of the world."

Mr. Drew said it had to be remembered that health matters fall within the jurisdiction of the provinces. No national health plan could be adopted without their consent. The provinces have not yet had an opportunity to approve formally of any plan.

In sponsoring his motion Mr. Noseworthy said that a national health plan had been promised for 32 years by the Liberal party. Stanley Knowles (C.C.F., Winnipeg North Centre), who seconded the motion, said he hoped that Health Minister Martin will go through with his promise to establish a parliamentary committee at the next session to study health insurance.

Solon Low, Social Credit leader, said he was opposed to the C.C.F. motion because it advocated centralization of health matters on the hands of the federal government.

"I object strongly to having our people constantly mollycoddled and forced into becoming wards of a superstate," said Mr. Low.

He agreed there were cases where persons needed help to obtain hospital and medical care, but the best way was to have the responsibility placed on the municipal and provincial governments he said.

He outlined the health measures undertaken in Alberta and said that gradually the people there are getting the kind of health assistance and health insurance they need.

Jean Francois Pouliot (L., Temiscouata), only government supporter to speak, said there was one reason why he was opposed to health insurance.

"During the war when I looked after the cases of disabled soldiers and I saw the way they were dealt with by the army doctors it revolted me," said Mr. Pouliot. "I do not want any army doctor to look after my family and myself; I want to choose my own doctor."

"Because of the civil service preference, doctors who have been overseas on Cooks' tour that lasted a few days have a preference . . . that is one objection I have to the health insurance scheme."

Angus MacInnis (C.C.F., Vancouver East) took issue with Mr. Low's statement that the C.C.F. was advocating centralization of health matters in the federal government. The C.C.F. motion simply called for introduction of what the government had been advocating for years, he said.

U.K. Narrows Trade Gap

LONDON, Dec. 12 (CP)—Imports amounted to £328,800,000 compared with £362,600,000 in October. Excess of Britain's imports over exports, major cause of her financial difficulties, but the country still is far short of making ends meet.

The Board of Trade said exports last month the first full month under Prime Minister Churchill's new Conservative government brought in an all-time high of £243,800,000.

CARDIFF, Wales (CP)—James Wynne drove his car 200 miles to appear in court here, pleading guilty to a charge of causing an obstruction in a local street. He was then fined four shillings.

A-Bomb Spy Chain Severed by Ottawa Defection

In this third article of his series telling the inside, detailed story of how Russia stole America's atomic bomb know-how, Bob Considine reports on the Canadian links in the tremendous conspiracy.

By BOB CONSIDINE

(World Copyright 1951 by International News Service)
Canada was a full-fledged partner in the three-nation effort to produce from virtual nothingness an atomic bomb of such terrifying power that its use would finish the axis and bring an abrupt halt to the Second World War.

Thus it merited the attention of the Soviet Union, and the U.S.S.R.'s A-bomb stealing apparatus, just as much as did the atomic operations in England and America. The important aspect of the penetration of Canada's curtain of security was that it was there—first of all—that the whole intrigue began to unravel.

The Soviet spying apparatus in Canada was under the direction of the Russian attaché of the Russian Embassy in Ottawa, Col. Zabotin, who in turn took his instructions from Moscow in a code that was not even known by other elements within the embassy, including the ambassador.

Zabotin, whose interesting code name was "Grant," escaped to Russia in advance of 17 assistants in December, 1945, from a New York port. His work was done by that time, and well done. If there had never been a defection in his own staff, Zabotin's sinister accomplishments might never have been known—or the path to the master criminal, Dr. Klaus Fuchs, made clear.

It is still not known how many Canadian scientists Zabotin and his operatives were able to reach or taint. But it is known that one of his men, Lieut. Angelov, obtained from Dr. Allan Nunn May small amounts of uranium 233 and 235 and a written report on what May—a highly regarded and well-trusted scientist—knew about the bomb project. Price of the sell-out: $700 and two bottles of whiskey. As in the U.S., the Reds stole their multi-million dollar secrets at bargain rates.

Either May gave the nod to the Russians or they presumed he would continue to supply information to them after his return to London at the conclusion of his work in Canada. On July 28, 1945, the director of military intelligence in Moscow radioed this message to "Grant":

"Work out and telegraph arrangements for the meeting and the password of Alek (May) with our man in London."

On the 22nd of August of that year "Grant" replied:

"We have worked out the conditions of a meeting with Alek in London. Alek will meet in King's College, Strand, meetings Oct. 4, 17, 27 on the street in front of the British Museum. The time, 11 o'clock in the evening. Identification signs: a newspaper under the left arm. Password: 'Best regards to Mikel'."

The director had other ideas: "The arrangements worked out for the meeting are not satisfactory. I am informing you of new ones."

1. Place: In front of the Great Museum in London, on Great Russell Street, at the opposite side of the street, about Museum Street, from the side of Tottenham Court Road, Alek walks from Tottenham Court Road, the contact man from the opposite side—Southampton Row.

2. Time: It would be more expedient to carry out the meeting at 20 o'clock . . . as 23 o'clock is too dark.

3. Identification signs: Alek will have under his left arm the newspaper "Times," the contact man will have in his left hand the magazine "Picture Post".

4. The password: The contact man: "What is the shortest way to the Strand?" Alek: "Well, come along, I am going that way . . . in the beginning of the business conversation Alek says: 'Best regards from Mikel'."

LINK BREAKS

But unknown to Zabotin, the director, May and the others in the conspiracy, a link in the chain had broken. He was Igor Gouzenko, a cipher clerk in Zabotin's office who went under the code name of "Klark."

The young former Red Army lieutenant compared his former and then current life with the freedom he found in Canada, and decided sometime during the summer of 1945 to break with the Soviets. For weeks he carefully described as not serious.

Nanaimo Chinese Hurt in Woods

scribed as not serious.
